CONTRACTOR WITH ACTIVE REGISTRATION

As an individual or company that intends to provide safety-sensitive services by contract to a regulated employer<sup>1</sup>, you have opted to have your own FAA-mandated drug and alcohol testing program. In doing so, you must comply with the following Code of Federal Regulations:

- Title 49 CFR part 40, Procedures for Transportation Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Programs, and
- Title 14 CFR part 120, Drug and Alcohol Testing Program

To initiate your testing program, you must register with the FAA's Drug Abatement Division (AAM-800). A registration sample and instructions are available on the FAA's Web site at http://www.faa.gov/about/office\_org/headquarters\_offices/avs/offices/aam/drug\_alcohol/starting/media/RegistrationForm.pdf. Once your registration is active, you must implement your FAA-mandated testing program no later than the date you start performing safety-sensitive functions for an employer.

When implementing your testing program, you must ensure that all individuals performing safety-sensitive functions directly or by contract (including subcontract at any tier) are subject to testing. Safety-sensitive functions (as described in §§ 120.105 and 120.215) include:

- flight crewmember duties,
- flight attendant duties,
- flight instruction duties,
- aircraft dispatcher duties,
- aircraft maintenance and preventive maintenance duties<sup>2</sup>,
- ground security coordinator duties,
- aviation screening duties,
- air traffic control duties, and
- operations control specialist duties.

<sup>1</sup> An employer is defined in 14 CFR part 120 as a part 119 certificate holder with authority to operate under parts 121 and/or 135, an air tour operator as defined under 14 CFR part 91, § 91.147, or an air traffic control facility not operated by the FAA or by or under contract to the U.S. military.

<sup>2</sup> The definitions of maintenance and preventive maintenance are included in 14 CFR § 1.1 and part 43. For more clarification, contact your local Flight Standards District Office.
